

Coaching Speakers

This is as far away from traditional ‘presentation skills’ as you can imagine. The philosophy is ‘real is best’ – working with people’s actual presentations, whether for the specific event that’s being rocked up, or for skills and approaches that can be applied every day.

Key topics include:

- Unleash your passion
- Your three-minute song: openings, chorus and climax
- Lyrics matter: paint word pictures and tell stories
- Perform! Break barriers and make an impact
- Rock the crowd: engaging the audience
- Be a ‘protest singer’: expressing authenticity

Your people learn skills they can apply to speaking and facilitating a specific event and in the future. They will be inspired to ‘rock up’ any meeting, pitch or conference.

Nigel offers more focused sessions for teams who have a vital pitch to work on, and also co-writes important speeches.

‘With speaking being the new rock’n’roll, Nigel engages his audience with every word and every gesture. His ability to keep hundreds of people rapt, ensuring a lasting impression is an art, coupling this with outstanding content means Nigel’s speeches live long in the memories for anyone who experiences them.’
